PROLOGUE.

Britain too long hath been abus'd with Names
 Of Whig and Tory, and such knavish Schemes :
 Amus'd with Fall of Monarchy and Church;
 Without Support of Pope's successive Cruitch.
 By these grand Cheats, Rome's Agents have of late Shock'd her Religion, and embroil'd her State.
 To Jesuitick Arts, and Popish Charms,
 We owe our grand Misfortunes, and our Harms.
Rome's Delusion, in Bondage held her fast,
 Till Nassau, like Moses, came and eas'd th' Task,
 Who sure by Providence in Time was sent
 To save her Church, defend her Parliament.
 Great William's Virtues and immortal Name,
 All Parties sounded in the Trump of Fame,
 Until for Liberty the Chief appear'd ;
 The Scene then chang'd, no more his Name rever'd.
 By Rome's black Agents join'd in close Design,
 Sweet Liberty and Truth to undermine,
 To gain their Ends, these Wretches desperate grown ;
 Conspir'd, like Titan's 'gainst his sacred Throne.
 Amus'd the Mob with Views of Egypt's Times ;
 And likened blindest Virtues unto Crimes :
 With Schemes from France and Turkey fill their Brains,
 And sounded all Things in rebellious Strains.
 Join'd in Designs to spread infectious Fears,
 And by false Murmurs set us by the Ears.
 Their artful Lies they scatter'd up and down
 To poison Loyalty, and shock the Crown.
 All for their Popish Prince, these Villains prey
 On Fools, as Knaves are wont to make their Way.

Litigious Knaves ! Their nimble Thoughts run round ;
 Their lawing Fancies dive ev'n under Ground :
 Their Causes go briskly on with Quarrels bold,
 Till Lawyers cool their Courage, get their Gold.
 Then one complains, and th' others in a Fury ;
 This raves at's Man, that at Judge and Jury.

What Hopes have Britons Popish Arts shall cease?
 What Hopes, that Jesuits shan't insult their Peace?
 Such Hopes as may to Europe once restore,
 Her Freedom lost in Popish Times of Yore:
 When Protestants, united Force engage,
 And Party Knaves are mark'd, then I presage.

Monthly Remarks.

A Jove Principium. —

By the Mercy and Goodness of the Almighty we have seen the Sun make another Revolution thro' the Twelve Celestial Signs of the Zodiack.

This Year begins with a notable Congress of the Superior Planets in Sagittarius, which according to the Opinion of the Ancients learned in the Astrologick Philosophy fore-shews Seditions, Troubles and Wars in some Coun-

Britons, a Prospect of such Times may take,
 And say, these Measures for her Good do make:
 To those perplex'd with Party Hope and Fear;
 Such Truths as these, like to wild Dreams appear.
 The Signs of Peace o'er Europe's Stage are run,
 And great Alliances are now begun.

Monthly Remarks.

The First Day of this Month, 1682. was born her Royal Highness the Illustrious Princess of Wales.

From the Positions and Rays of some of the celestial Seven, it may be expected some considerable Political Project will be transacted, or under Consideration; hence many Conjectures and lewd Reflections will be made by a discontented Party against their Superiors, with vile Designs to disturb their Governors; for which some Troublers of our Israel will meet with a timely and just Reward for their Insolence; and others for their Treacheries, &c.

Some Parts of France labour under the ill Influence of Saturn, &c.

News of the Death or Remove of an aged and grave Statesman, and the Death of some Prince or great Clergyman.

April hath XXX Days.

145 George with Britain's noble Sons alone,
 Can Peace entail on the Protestant Throne :
 'Tis Britain's Courage, and her Martial Store,
 Subdues her Foes, as often heretofore.
 In Spite of Jack Flies, that attempt her Flame, Threaten Clouds of Ills. which they dare not Name.

The many freindly Aspects at the Lunation preceeding the Summer Ingress, & Subsequent, promise much Good to Britain and her Allies.

The Opposition of ☽ to ☽, and ☽ in the Second at the Lunation, bespeak want of Money by the Government, but the position of ☽ at the Ingress, shews that Difficulty will be surmounted, notwithstanding the contrary Endeavours of a discontented Party of Men, whose Heads are incessantly at work to imbroile Government, & yet pretend to great Innocence; but they are very unhappy, for none but their own Creatures and Tools will beleive a Word they say upon that Head, because their Words & Actions give one another the Lye barefac'd to all Mankind, who are not void of common Sense.--- A great Man leaves the World or his Place with much Reluctancy: Enquire at Westminster after the State of another.

July hath XXXL Days:

How England in her Grandeur is retir'd,
By Nassau's Scheme, and George's Arts reliev'd;
Her strong Alliance sought by all, doth shew
Her Greatness in the most conspicuous View;
Sav'd from Rome's Priests, no longer shall she mourn,
No longer have the Choice to fly or burn:

Some Heats, Stickling and opposition in Britains Metropolis, by the several Parties, which will occasion more Divisions amongst Citizens. News from Foreign Parts, of Preparations for Mischief and Destruction; some clandestine Design set on Foot in North Britain. The Dutch take umbrage at the Conduct of some Neighbours, direct their Councils accordingly. The magnificent and martial Prussian Monarch lays up martial Stores against the Day of Battle.

The discontented Jacks will be forward and active, they'll turn every Stone to accomplish their Designs, especially the Mercurists amongst them, by bitter invectives and aspersive Pamphlets against the Ministry and Government.

An Affair of publick Concern, which hath been artfully deferred, will now be set on foot again.

August hath XXXI. Days

Worship their lifted Host, and Saints invoke,
Bow down to Images, or a heavier Yoke;
But thanks to Heaven, all such Fears are gone,
These Mists dispell'd, all their vile Plots known;
Once more she's free, her Enemys shall feel
The matchless Force of true protestant Steel.

Monthly Remarks.

From the froward Planetary Rays now in View, little Good can be expected to happen in some neighbour Countrys.

The Position of the two Infortunes, by the goodness of Providence, shews that the Grave and Sober Commonality and brave martial Men will stedfastly adhere to his Majesty, protect his Person and support his Government, tho there is signification of some unhappy Grumbling and impudent Actions. Fires, an untoward Fever or other malignant Sicknes threatens to visit her this Fall and part of the Winter

The 17th of this Month 1674, was born the most Illustrious Prince Ernest Augustus, Duke of York, Martial Actions or Laws threaten some parts of Italy France, Spain, and Barbary.

Jealousies and Feare invidiously suggested, and industriously spread, to scandalize the Prince and enervate his Government.

October hath XXXI Days.

Thus mundan Powers, their various Turns do
And fleeting Minutes alteration make; (take,
The present Juncture England doth advance,
'Tis Folly, trusting to a future Chance;
The passing Moments never have the like,
'Tis Prudence while the Iron's hot to strike.

About the 8th of Sept. last, there was an Opposition of Saturn and Mars, from Saggi-tarius and the City Twins, and now the same Planets come to the same Aspect again, and soon after happens an Opposi-tion of Mars and Sol; it portends some Bussle or irregu-lar rash Action in or about London, with a design to set the Mob a madding; I wish no Fires or unusual Sicknesh may visit her.

Variety of odd sort of News, invented and artfully dis-persed to surprize and stir up the discontented, rash and inconsiderate Resolutions and illegal Actions. News of Misfortunes at Sea, Ship-wrack, Breaking of the Sea-Banks, Inundations, and from thence Desolations, &c.

It is affirmed by the Divine Verity that every Kingdom divided against it self, is brought to Desolation; and that every City or House divided against it self, shall not stand, Math. 12. 25.

IT had been happy for Protestants, if they had had such Regard to this sacred Text, as became their Profession, and from a due Consideration hereof, avoided unhappy Divisions, inhuman Disputes, unchristian Heats, and Heathen Actions, which have been artfully raised ably kept on Foot, invidiously and industriously Stimulated amongst them by the Agents of their common Enemies, the Papists: from whence many Thousands of Protestants have suffered from their Brethren, as well as from their common Enemies the Papists: so that from Persecutions of Brethren, and Destructions and Desolations made by Papists, the Protestants are so much diminish'd, and their Power so weaken'd, that without the special Favour and Protection of divine Providence, the Remnant of Protestants will become a Prey to the Popish Power. For it is an unhappy Truth, that they have had, and still have unchristian Differences

PARTRIDGE, 1723.

Differences among them concerning Ecclesiastical Government, Discipline, Rites and Ceremonies of Worship, which have rais'd Divisions amongst them, made Parties, and Parties in their misguided Zeal, contrived and perpetrated Acts of Cruelty against their Brethren alternately, as they obtain'd Power; without Regard to the Sacred Christian Rule, viz. Be as wise as Serpents to avoid the Evil Machinations of their Enemies against them; but nevertheless as harmless as Doves, to demonstrate, that they were not only his Disciples but Christians also.

If the Protestants had had a due Regard to these Sacred Rules, they might easily have found Methods for removing the Occasions of unchristian Divisions, Contests and Persecutions from among them, or at least have been induc'd to have lived as they ought like Brethren; notwithstanding those Differences, and thereby utterly deca'd the evil Designs of their common Enemy, the Jesuit, against them, Tho' there be Differences among Papists, yet they mutually tolerate and bear with one another, and in Joint Concert of Council and Practice; without Division or Dissension, contrive, cultivate and carry on their Plots, and destructive Designs against Protestants and their Religion.

It was foretold, in Sr. John cap. 16. v. 2, and 3. The Time cometh, that whosoever killeth you, will think that he doth God Service, and these Things they will do unto you, because they have not known the Father nor me. This propheticall Declaration of Christ, may be fairly apply'd to the barbarous and inhuman Persecutions, which Papists have since exercised on Protestants in the Destruction of them in all Kingdoms, Countries and Places, wherever it pleased God to suffer their Power to prevail; Examples of their murdering and burning of Protestants alive, for no other Reason or Cause, but for their being Protestants, are thought by many pious and learned Men to be innumerable.

King Edward the 6th, made a Settlement of the Crown of England upon the Lady Jane Grey, who was of the Blood Royal, viz. Granddaughter to his Aunt, Daughter of King Henry 7th, and Sister to his Father King Henry 8th: This Lady Jane, upon the Death of King Edward 6th, in pursuance of the said Settlement was proclaimed Queen of England, &c. But the Protestants imprudently falling into Divisions and Parties, Mary the Popish Princess, made Use of those Divisions, apply'd her self to the Norfolk and Suffolk Protestants with solemn Promises, that no Innovation or Alteration should be made by her of or from the Protestant Religion, which her Brother King Edward 6th had before established by Laws and Orders publicly enacted, and that been received by the Consent of the whole Realm: The Protestants were credulous, believed her, and join'd their Persons, Arms and whole Force in her Defence against the Lady Jane, and set Mary on the Throne; as soon as Mary was established on the Throne, she broke her Promise, forbid the Protestant Ministers to preach, and inhibited the Protestants from the Exercise of their Religion, whereupon some Protestants, who had set her on the Throne, made an humble Petition to her, put her in mind of her Promise to them of tolerating them in their Religion, she told them plainly, they must and should be rul'd and govern'd by their Head, and that they should find, that she was their Head, and forthwith restored the Popish Religion, Idolatry and all their Heathen Superstitious and prophane Ceremonies of the Church of Rome, and burnt alive with Fire and faggots those, who would not conform to their gross and shameful Idolatry, heathen Superstitious and Ceremonies.

Amongst many Hundreds of innocent Men, Women and Children, that in her Reign she and her Priest Priests burnt alive, for no other Crime or Offence whatsoever, other than for being Protestants, take the History of the burning alive of two very pious and learned Bishops of the Protestant Church of England, Dr. John Hooper Bishop of Gloucester, and Nicholas Ridley Bishop of London, one of them a Low-Churchman, and the other a High-Churchman, according to the then Division of High-Church and Low-Church.

Bishop Hooper was pronounc'd a Heretick (that is to say) adjudged a Protestant by his Popish Brethren Gardiner Bishop of Winchester, Bamer Bishop of London, and the then other Bishops and Clergy of the Church of England who were turned Papists, and thereon by them unbishop'd, and afterwards sent to Gloucester and there burnt alive in a barbarous and inhuman Manner, to wit, he was fastned to the Stake to be burnt with no more Faggots than two Horses could bring on their Backs, and those Green, by reason whereof his Feet and Legs were roasted, until a few dry Faggots were brought and a new Fire kindled, which burnt his lower Parts; In the Time of this Fire he pray'd to Christ heartily; after the Force of the Second Fire was spent, he spake to the Spectators, and said, for God's love let me have more Fire, for all this Time his lower Parts only did burn, or rather roast, for the Fire was not strong enough to reach the higher Parts of his Body. Some short Time after, a Third Fire was kindled, which burnt more violent, during the Time of this last Fire he pray'd with an audible Voice.

Bishop Ridley was by his Brethren also the Bishops and Clergy pronounc'd to be a Heretick, that is, a Protestant

PART RIDGE, 1723.

(for all Protestants are accounted and called Hereticks by the Pope and his Clergy) and therefore unbaptized and delivered over to be burnt alive, for being a Protestant Heretic, and accordingly he was burnt in the same cruel barbarous Manner, as Bishop Hooper was burnt; for they first burnt his Feet and Legs, which made him leap up and down, and often pray them to let the Fire come into his Body; after his Legs were partly burnt with the Fire, he threw one side of his Shirt all clean and all untouched by the Fire: Yet during all this inhuman Torment, he did not forget to call on God for Mercy, begged that the Fire might come unto his Body: Here you have a short but true Account of the Martyrdom of those two learned ious Protestant Bishops, amongst many Hundreds of other Persons that suffered the cruel Torments of burning alive in Queen Mary's reign. Can any Men, who have not totally abandon'd Humanity, and divested themselves of all Bowels of Mercy, see such horrible Sight, much less be guilty of such Acts, without Remorse of Conscience and fear of the tremendous Justice of the Almighty Judge.

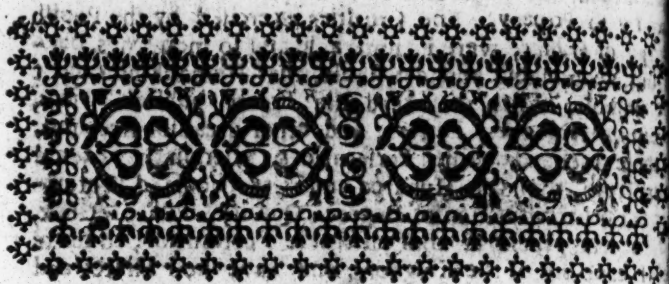

Tho' these two great Men, in the Time of their respective Episcopal Governments, had had some Heats and Differences about Conformity and Non-Conformity to some Rites and Ceremonies, yet Papist Persecution, and the Sight of an inhuman Death for the Protestant Religion, reconciled them into a Christian Temper and State, and Bishop Ridley the High-Churchman wrote to Hooper the Low-Churchman, and assured him, in the Bowels of Christ he lov'd him, in Truth, and for Truth: From the cruel and inhuman Martyrdom of these two good Bishops, the Protestants may take Notice and remember, that Papists and their Priests spare neither High-Church nor Low-Church Protestants, and that a High Church Bishop and Martyr, in View of Popish consuming Flames, hath left for Admonition to his Successors, that Rites and Ceremonies were neither essential or necessary in their own nature to a Christian Life here, or the Salvation of Human Souls.

It is well known the late King of France was preserved by the French Protestants from being dethron'd, and that they supported and established him on the Throne, and that he by publick Declaration acknowledged the same, and return'd 'em thanks, and the Queen his Mother did the same, nothing in the Court or Field was more nois'd and talk'd, than the Fidelity of the French Protestants; yet this same King, at the Importunities and Clamour of his Popish Clergy, broke over the known and established Laws of the Kingdom for Toleration to Protestants, called the great Law or Edict of Nantes. As soon as this Law or Edict was set aside, and rendered invalid, the Protestants were all persecuted for Nonconformity to Popery. The Cruelties exercised by the Popish Clergy of France, were innumerable and so monstrous, barbarous, abominable and detestable, that Humankind cannot but tremble, when they read the French public Prints, Gazettes, Harangues, Letters, and other dreadful Accounts, of those cruel and evilish Persecutions, wherein they own'd for Truth, that One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Protestants without distinction of Degree, Quality, Estate or Sex, and the Happiness in that miserable Persecution, to make their Escape out of the Kingdom, and leave their Estates and Effects, and beg their Bread, or starve in strange Countries, their Cruelty towards them was so barbarously inhuman, that they would suffer none to leave the Kingdom on pain of Death, or Condemnation to the Gallies, &c. whereby a Million and Half of poor innocent Protestants, suffer'd cruel inhuman Persecution and Death, by all manner of barbarous Tortures, as 'tis acknowledged by the French Clergy themselves. From this Breach of a great and Solemn Law of the French Government, at the Importunities of the French Clergy, from this horrid Persecution exercised by the French Clergy on the innocent Men, Women and Children, for no other Cause or Reason other than for being Protestants, Protestants ought not to trust a Popish King or Clergy; For those Protestants must abandon all Reason, nay even common Sense of Animals, that will trust a Popish King and Clergy; who teach it as a Precept of their Church, and as an Article of their Faith, that they are bound in Conscience not to keep Promise, Oath or other Agreement, Laws, &c. with Protestants farther than consists with the Interest of their Church; that all Agreements, Promises, Oaths, and other securities whatsoever made or given by Papists to Protestants for Protection, Peace and Safety are in themselves absolutely null and void, as being made to Hereticks, for so they nickname Protestants

An Astrolological Dissertation on the Conjunctions of the Three Superior Planets Saturn, Jupiter and Mars, which happened in December, 1722.

THE Capaciousness of this magnificent Subject deserves the Thoughts of a much better Naturalist, and the Pen of a more polite Methodist than the Author can pretend to; and he is sensible that he ought previous to the following Discourse, to have entertain'd the Reader with a Discussion of Celestial and Planetary Energy and Causes of natural Mutations, as to the World in general, or more particularly as to Human Kind, &c. whether mediately from the Virtues or Influences of the celestial Bodies, the Stars and Planets, or immediately from the Supreme Being: But those Points being of a very sublime Nature and requiring much more Room to discuss, than is allowed in this Place, such Enquiries must be pretermitted, and the Almighty Creator's Institution: Suit and Sign, &c. let be for Signs and Seasons, &c. at this Time acquiesc'd in, and humbly submit it to Consideration whether Signs of the Divine Beings providential Wi., may not without Incoherence in Meta-Physicks, or Contradiction in Physicks be called Causes of natural Operations?

Neither will he presume to distinguish, much less dispute whether the Ceremony of the Supreme in Naturals is immediate or mediate, but take it for granted Sub Deo Semper agunt is a Truth, and present the Reader with the Opinions of some learned Men in this point. St. Aug. saith Deus in Inferiora

 History from Observation doth testify that the Congress the Superior Planets, have been followed with Transactions Imperative Distinctions, and the Opinions of learned Men affirm, that the Conjunctions of the Planets Saturn, Jupiter
 Mars have been and will be attended with transcendent Effects. Daphodius (saith) Trigonum V A and 2, est christia- nis ejus Dominus II.

This of Daphodius is confirmed by History and Experience those, who live to see the next twenty Years run out, see some extraordinary Transactions relating to the Chu ch, and the Admirers of her corrupt Religion, the tyrannical Government of her Jesuit Priests exercise over human Conscience.

The learned Historian and Chronologer Affadius was of opinion, that the Fire of this Trigon before the Year 1800 should consume the Dress and Refuse of Rome.

These Three Conjunctions all happen in the Fiery Sign Aries, which is in an amicable Position to England. Advent, from whence it may be hop'd, that England will take of their benevolent Influence, more than some other Countries, especially as to the Governour and Government

The learned Campellaster also hath this Observation on Conjunctions of the Superior Planets in the Fiery Sign. Monarchia prima frangitur, incipiunt Hareses diras, profecta ob mortem S. Lunam, sine plus Armis quam verbis ampliatum, &c. This is astrologically to be understood, some Monarchy or State shall be broken, strange Heresies, protected by the Sword, and that the People will run into a maddening Humour of Bigotry, that is in plain English some Country, Faith will be more enlarged by the Sword Persecution, than Papist Miracles; some new Religion or religious Tenets against former Austerities and Superstitions;
 so that Matters in Church and State in some Countries shall assume their pristine State, and for sometime seem to free from Austerities and Disturbances they labour'd under, especially until Saturn and Jupiter come to their first quadrate in 1727.

From the Prerogative of Jupiter in these Conjunctions, Tranquility and great Happiness, might be predicted by

by Romish and Bigotted Astrologers to happen to their Religion and Party, and that grand Actions, Matters and Things may be hoped for, from thence to the Advancement of their Politie in Church and State: But Saturn is now elevated, and if the Judgment of the learned Antient Professors of Astrology be genuine, the benign Effects hoped for from the sweet Influence of Jupiter will be retarded, strange Factions will arise, violent Prosecutions from malice or misguided Zeal, even among Mahometans: Intricate Tenets invented, promulgated and propagated, which will disturb the Peace of some Kingdoms and States, and endanger the Safety of others.

The Progress of these Three Planets to Conjunction extraordinary, for if the astronomical Tables of their Motion be true, Jupiter first joins to Saturn, and immediately Mars joins Saturn, and separates from him and presently joins Jupiter.

The Addition of Jupiter by Saturn and Mars flows many Fortunes to some Churchmen, that some Matters relating to what some Men call Religion, will meet some more ordinary Visitation or Tryal, if not a barefaced Opposition and Insult from craft and subtilty of Men, signified by Saturn, and from open force of Men of the Sword signified by Mars.

Will the Sectary and Soldier unite? Will one contend and Porter High? Will the Romish Churchmen be able to contend with the Sword? No, the Sword of Justice will Rule and Protect the civil Government.

It is the Advice of the learned Cardan, cum videris Conjunctionem Superiorum in Triplexitate ignea, &c. when the sects (saith he) a Conjunction of the superior Planets signify Triplexity (as these Three Conjunctions happen to be) be not hasty to give Judgment, neither let it be of such Matters, for the Actions signified are preeminent above others, &c.

I shall follow this Advice, and only give You the Opinion of the antient and modern and learned Men upon these Conjunctions: The Conjunction of Saturn and Mars (they say) will irritate the Influence of Saturn and Jupiter in notable Actions and Transactions or Occurrences in Kingdoms, States and Cities, as sudden Commotions, Mobbs, madding Factions in the People, and Misfortunes usually attending misrule those Countries, States and Cities signified by the Signs of the Congress and quadrantale Points.

Change Teners in Religion, much Drought, scarcity, untoward Distempers among Men and Beasts, if the benign Ray of Jupiter don't ameliorate or divert his Influence.

Astrologers say, that Jupiter is a general Significator of Religion, and Men professing Religion, of the Laws and Liberties of Nations, Kingdoms, Countries and State; and so, as now posited, signifies a Change or Alteration of some Matters and Things relating to Religion, and State, by secret as well as open Methods, by subtle Arts as well as by open violent Actions, some Restrictions, if not suppressions in those Things.

The Elevation of Saturn shews the Jesuit will be busy to undermine and suppress the Protestant Interest and Religion, the Church and Churchmen, and Protestant People; that some Protestants will endeavour to enlarge the terms of Communion, others to obtain some severe Restrictions in Discipline, others will endeavour to remove Objections in the Discipline of Church Regimen, Reformation of Abuses, and Lewdness in Religion, Attempts to change, suppress or restrain some Things now practised or tolerated in Religion, Worship or Church Discipline.

It also signifies a Change or Reformation of some Laws, Customs and Privilege; a new Kingdom, Restoration or Titles of Honour and Dignity, Endeavours, or Contests and Strife for and against a General Council, &c.

Miror Efectus producit magna, &c. saith one of the Learned Ancients upon such a Conjunction, a new Set of Antiquarians assuming a new Name, with Pretensions that they are Holy Men, Prophets, or some such arcana Cant, to amuse the World again with wild Notions, affected Grimaces, and artful Gestures.

The Learned Escud, the English Merlin, in Tract. 1. lib. 4. (saith) Saturnus cum fuerit acri distans Saturnario, accident Hominibus Dubones, &c. Let him that understand the Word Dubones. And fol. 40. the same Author saith, Agritudine multa & Infirmities ex sanguine, &c. that is to say, from Corruption of the blood.

In the Seventh Segm. Aph. 124. it is said, that it hath Signification of too much Drought in some of those Countries, that are signified by the Signs afflicted by the Congress of these Planets; and that Scarcity, Fires, and violent Diseases will afflict some of those Countries and Cities.

Will the Soldier and Soldier unite? Will one contrive and the other fight? Will the Romish Churchmen be able to contend with the Sword? No, the Sword of Justice will Rule and Protect the civil Government.

It is the Advice of the learned Cardan, cum videtur Conjunctionem Superiorem in Triplicitate ignea, &c. when thou seest (saith he) a Conjunction of the superior Planets in the fiery Triplicity (as these Three Conjunctions happen to be) be not hasty to give Judgments, neither let it be of small Matters, for the Actions signified are preeminent above others, &c.

I shall follow this Advice, and only give You the Opinions of the antient and modern and learned Men upon these Conjunctions: The Conjunction of Saturn and Mars (they say) will irritate the Influence of Saturn and Jupiter in notable Actions and Transactions or Occurrences in Kingdoms, States and Cities, as sudden Commotions, Mobbs, madding Fitts in the People, and Misfortunes usually attending misrule in those Countries, States and Cities signified by the Sign of the Congress and quadrantal Points.

It also signifies a Change or Reformation of some Laws, Customs and Privilege; a new Kingdom, Estate or Titles of Honour and Dignity, Endeavour, or Contests and Strife for and against a General Council, &c.

Mirus Effectus product magna, &c. saith one of the Learned Antients upon such a Conjunction, a new Set of Enthusiasts assuming a new Name, with Pretensions that they are Holy Men, Prophets, or some such arcana Cant, to amuse the World again with wild Notions, affected Grimaces, and artful Gestures.

The Learned Escud, the English Merlin, in Tract. 1. Distin. 4. (saith) Saturnus cum fuerit aq̄i distans Sagittario, accident Hominib; Dubones, &c. Let him that read understand the Word Dubones. And fol. 40. the same Author saith, Agritudine multa & Infirmitates ex Sanguine, &c. that is to say, from Corruption of the Blood.

In the Seventh Segm. Aph. 124. it is said, that it hath Signification of too much Drought in some of those Countries, that are signified by the Signs afflicted by the Congress of these Planets, and that Scarcity, Fires, and pestilential Diseases will afflict some of those Countries and Cities.

Some of the Antients tell us, that Conjunctions of these Planets in this Sign, and last Decade of Sagittary, have have Signification of the Death of Horles by some unusual Disease; that it hath Signification of Damage and Loss at Sea by Tempest and Pyrates.

Other Effects following the Conjunction of the Two Superiors will appear in mistaken Zeal in Things, which Zealots call their Religion, these warm Men will sometimes be very busy, if not turbulent, and at other Times more remiss, or less violent, according as the Influence of Jupiter intervenes, so that the Good promised from the benevolent Rays of that Benevolent will oftentimes be resisted, delay'd, and too often defeated, or at least diverted by the Subtlety and Craft of those signified by the Superior Planet.

At other Times the fiery Influence of Mars will stimulate the Thoughts of Men, as well as the Soldier, into imprudent Passions, and irritate them into immoral, if not unchristian Actions to assume Government.

Tho' the Intentions of some Princes and Governments, seem to tend to a better Improvement of their Dominions, and the Amendment of their Laws, and to render the State and Condition of their Subjects better, yet a subtle Party of Men will not only oppose these good Offices, but endeavour to effect a Revolution in some great Family, State and Government, and also to procure an Alteration in Religion, Laws, Privileges, and antient Customs, which may be attended with dangerous Consequences; for as the Two Infortunates vitiate the Places signified by the Signs of Position, by their froward and ill-natured Influences, so the Minds of Men will abound with Thoughts of ill Tendency, from which they will precipitately hurry into some extravagant Action. The malevolent Influence of these Planets will also vitiate the Blood, which signifies a Morally among Human Kind, from a pestilent, or other Epidemical, annual Disemper.

Saturn hath Signification of Monks, Jesuits, Priests, Mahometans, Sects Schisms, &c. and by this Conjunction and Position signifies, that a Set of Men of untoward, sordid Principles in the Courts of Princes, will be active to insinuate pernicious Councils into Princes and their Ministers with View and Intention to undermine and defeat the good Council, which Good Ministers endeavour to set on Foot, and carry on for publick Good; and as these Placets are Oriental, their Effects will sooner appear, and what was concerted in secret will be discovered: Blest be those that in Sincerity labour for establishing Peace, and promoting of Truth, and let every Honest Man say. Amen.

PART RIDGE, 1723.

Tho' the Conjunctions of the Superior Planets have a general Signification of mundane Affairs, yet Observation and Experience shew, that the Places signified by the Progress and Quadrantal Points, shall be passive, and most liable of the Effects.

From this Doctrine it follows, that the Kingdoms of Spain, Hungary, Dalmatia, Sclavonia, and some other parts of Turkey in Europe will be the principal passive Kingdoms, States and Countries; that the Kingdom of Savoy, Lombardy, Flanders, Brabant, Wertenburgh, West of England, London, Portugal, Part of France, Part of Germany, the City of Paris, &c. will be subject to some fortune; Spain and Hungary seem more than ordinarily concern'd; great Consultations about Reformation in Religion, high Debates and hot Contentions about an Universal or Spiritual Temporal Prerogatives which Nothing but the Sword may determine and settle.

Some Religions much dejected, others depressed, not only Temporal Power and Authority, but by such who profess themselves of Religious Orders.

The Three Planets, as is observed before, at the Time their Conjunction, being posited in friendly Rays to England's Significator, is a three-fold Argument, that the Power of Great Britain will be formidable to all Europe, that her Fortitude will be sufficient to defend her against Foreign and Domestick Adversities and Disturbances; it shews her Naval and Martial Powers and Stores, to be great and masculine, sufficient for the Defence and Service of her self and Friends, against Attempts from abroad, or from at Home, which some giddy discontented people rack and plague their Brains about; for tho' the adverse Aspect of Sol and Mercury shew their Spirit will be weak, yet they will find their fleshly Arm very weak; that Opportunity, proper Tools, Materials, Money and proper Agents (the essential Part) will not answer the Proposers Ends. The Enemies of the Government of Great Britain and their Brethren, who are for a Comprehensive may take Notice, that at the Time of these Conjunctions, one of the Fortunes smiles on the City of London, that the Opposition of the other will have no ill Effects at this Time, and more particularly that this three-Planets Conjunction is in Opposition to the Place of the Sign, the pretended Radix of their Warbeck, and will be attended with answerable Effects of ill Tendency to the last Degree, if He and his Birth be not both supposititious. These Conjunctions have Signification to the Prince and People

PARTRIDGE, 1723.

People of Great-Britain; an Establishment of the Teregative of this Prince, and a Confirmation of the People's Liberties: It will prove a Mortification to Jesuits, Priests, and their Semi-Papist Friends, who labour for Comprehension.

Thus much as to National Affairs in general, from the Effects of these Conjunctions; but as to Matters Physical, seeing, after the preceding Conjunctions of Saturn and Jupiter in the fiery Trigon, there hath happened Plagues in England, as in the Years 1605, 1625, 1665. So we ought to pray for Deliverance from such a dreadful Visitation.

Some Learned Men have been of Opinion, that Comets appear about, or soon after such Conjunctions, but modern Learned Mathematicians hold Opinion, that Comets are Bodies, which have been existing in Motion from the Beginning, but these Things Time only must discover, I have no more Room, and therefore must conclude.
